

Hi, and thanks for placing an order on my gig! 😊

In my feedback I use my experience to help improve your site, where it can be improved. I try to be objective, and not to give criticism unless necessary - but if it is necessary, I don't hold it back. My feedback is 100% original (sorry if you were expecting some pre-written report 50 pages long, and it's worth noting that I organize my feedback into bullet points, so the ideas are easier to track. Usually, I focus on two separate categories: the design and usability of a particular site.

So, here we go:

Design

- The way you structured your website is neat and tidy. I like minimalism, and I like that you don't go overboard with a lot of graphics and unnecessary information. However, I think you went a bit too much on the minimalist side of things with the complete absence of any graphics - even a logo - and colors. I think you should brighten it up just a bit, after all the site is not as sober in content as it is in aspect.
- I find your design similar to the Material Design that Google recently introduced. However, yours lacks a consistency that I find in Google's - for instance, every post has rounded corners and a shadow, but the page that it's set against doesn't. Here are the design guidelines from Google, they might help you out: <http://www.google.ro/design/spec/material-design/introduction.html#>
- Another thing I would suggest is to find two or three complementary colors and use them instead of using grayscale. If you are keen on grayscale, then by all means stick with it, but otherwise - color is in fashion, and it's never been out of fashion when it comes to websites - I think you should add some color to the site.

Apart from that, the design is nice, the posts' animations are cool and I like reading through it.

Usability

- A simple website is simple to use, and yours is no exception. Everything seems to work as intended, and nothing seems out of place. 10/10 on that count!
- The one thing I would change if I could would be to add a bit more information about the site. I get it that you want to say a lot without actually saying, but the one tagline (Events from Sacred Circle Mailing List) wasn't enough for me to get a feeling about what the site is and what I should take from it. I would definitely enjoy it if you had a small piece of text at the beginning that explained everything better – just a phrase or two that says who writes on the site, why, stuff like that.

Conclusion

Your site is very unique, and honestly it's a breath of fresh air among today's blogs and sites that have dozens of share buttons spread all around. I like it, overall, and with just a few modifications it will be (at least in my view) a perfect slice of internet.
